A good question: Scrap the Church?

Rev'd Sarah Simpson led our Owls discussion group this month around this '1 question, 4 answers' topic in the Reform magazine.

Is the Church what Jesus had in mind when he talked of the kingdom of God? Does it do the work of God, or get in the way? Four events run by the United Reformed Church at this summer's Greenbelt festival will explore the same question.

You can read the whole article on the Reform Magazine's website.

From URC General Assembly 2016

The URC inducts two new moderators

On the opening day of its General Assembly, 8 July 2016, the United Reformed Church inducted two new moderators – the Revd Kevin Watson and Mr Alan Yates. Moderators of General Assembly are the URC's national figureheads, representing the denomination both at home and abroad.

Mr Watson and Mr Yates will serve as moderators for two years, continuing the URC's leadership tradition of ordained and lay ministers serving together. The duo succeeds the Revd David Grosch-Miller and Mr John Ellis, who were thanked for their hard work during the induction service.

The URC empowers its local churches to conduct marriages of same-sex couples

The General Assembly of the United Reformed Church (URC) on 9 July voted in favour of allowing its local churches to conduct and register marriages for same-sex couples. This means that the URC is now the largest UK denomination to freely permit the celebration and registration of marriages of same-sex couple in its churches.

Assembly voted in favour of the resolution by 240 votes to 21 votes. United Reformed churches in England and Wales wishing to register their buildings for the marriage of same-sex couples are now able to start that process immediately.

Murmurings from the Manse

One Synod suggests Ministers clear their desks the week before their Sabbatical, thinking that a clear desk equals a mind freed from everything other than the approaching study leave. Well, that's one idea, but you know me enough by now not to believe that is, shall we say, rather unlikely.

Whilst I am looking forward to this time, I am also worried - it seems like an enforced break from you all and at a fairly crucial time as well, I know you will work together and can manage perfectly well without me, but still, it isn't ideal and I appreciate that.

Three months will fly by, if the speed at which this year has progressed is any indication, hopefully a good summer, then looking ahead to Harvest and beyond, time for plans to be put into action, time to rise to the challenge Synod has set and to which we are responding wonderfully, and I am so proud of you all for doing so.

So over the coming months look after each other, look out for each other and in no time at all, I'll be back with you. Please remember David and I in your prayers, as you will be in ours.

Every blessing
Sarah
